

ACI Worldwide Celebrates Female Leadership at Women in Payments Symposium 2014

ACI's Carolyn Homberger and Kay Williams among featured presenters

NAPLES, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- ACI Worldwide (NASDAQ: ACIW), a leading global provider of electronic payment and banking solutions, today announced its participation in the Women in Payments Symposium 2014, a premier event that brings together senior women in payments to connect, learn and celebrate accomplishments, innovation, and leadership in the payments industry. The Women in Payments Symposium is held this year on November 19 in Atlanta.

The event will be opened by Carolyn Homberger, group president, Customer Management & Maintenance, ACI Worldwide. Joining Carolyn will be Janet Estep, president and CEO of NACHA and Kristy Duncan, founder of Women in Payments.

Additionally, Kay Williams, ACI vice president and product line manager, Retail Payments, will lead a session on real-time, any-to-any payments.

Moving Today's Payments to Real-time Any-to-Any Payments

1:30 - 2:30pm

Consumers and businesses have multiple options when paying for goods & services. The current infrastructure works today, but was built when paper reigned and the Internet & smart phones didn't exist. Technology has shifted and payment systems have fallen behind. This session highlights the need to move to a real-time Any-to-Any (P2P, P2B or B2B) payment network between consumers, retailers, financial institutions, billers & governments and begin the replacement of complex aging card systems.

ACI will also showcase its Universal Payments (UP) solutions and presenting real-world successes at this event. ACI's UP portfolio of solutions orchestrates all aspects of payments processing for any payment type, any channel, any currency and any network.
