

ACI Worldwide Teams with Habitat for Humanity Locations Across US

Company actively supports and encourages employee volunteer work

NAPLES, FLA—May 21, 2013—ACI Worldwide (NASDAQ: ACIW), a leading international provider of payment systems, announced today it teamed with Habitat for Humanity to conduct employee volunteer events at nine of its U.S. locations this month. Nearly 250 employees, ranging from the associate level up to ACI's Chief Executive Officer Philip Heasley, volunteered their time to help build homes for qualified low-income families in need.

"I would like to thank the generosity and commitment of our employees to help the communities we serve. This is just one example that showcases the spirit and drive of our ACI employee base," said Dennis Byrnes, executive vice president, who volunteered alongside fellow Omaha, NE employees on their construction site May 10.

In addition to the employees who completed labor on site with Habitat, the ACI locations conducted employee fundraisers. ACI and employee donations were distributed among the nine participating Habitat offices.

ACI takes giving back to the communities in which it operates very seriously. ACI actively encourages employees to give back to their communities by offering four paid hours a month to volunteer for a charity of their choice. The company sponsors a wide range of volunteer activities globally each year through volunteer hours and donations to a number of charitable organizations.
