

ACI Worldwide Powers Online and Mobile Banking for Pearl Harbor Federal Credit Union

Leading credit union leverages ACI's integrated online banking platform to power its online banking and bill payment services

NAPLES, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- ACI Worldwide (NASDAQ: ACIW), a leading international provider of electronic payment and banking systems, announced today that Pearl Harbor Federal Credit Union (PHFCU) has selected ACI's integrated online banking platform for credit unions, WebFederal, to power PHFCU Online, its online and mobile banking and bill payment services.

PHFCU is one of Hawaii's leading credit unions, serving thousands of members across the state. As its business has grown and its customers increasingly embrace online and mobile banking, the credit union recognized the need to provide a seamless, multi-channel experience that continued to deliver outstanding service while maximizing efficiencies. PHFCU selected ACI's WebFederal online banking solution, which provides customers with a universal, real-time, omni-channel experience. PHFCU is hosting its application in ACI's secure and fully compliant data centers, which host banking and payment solutions for more than 4,000 financial institutions, retailers and billers.

"We are intensely focused on customer satisfaction and delivering the most convenient, real-time banking experience that meets our members' desires for banking across multiple channels," said Neal S. Takase, president and CEO, Pearl Harbor Federal Credit Union. "With ACI's integrated online banking and bill pay platform, we provide our members with stress-free ways to manage their banking affairs."

"Our flexible and scalable solutions provide control and choice to credit unions as they expand their operations and evolve to meet the needs of their members," said Eric Labiak, senior vice president, ACI Worldwide. "We're proud to have so many long-time customers like PHFCU expand their relationships and continue innovating with ACI."
