

ACI Worldwide Spotlights Faster Payments, eCommerce Advancements and More at Money20/20 Europe

NAPLES, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- ACI Worldwide (NASDAQ: ACIW), a leading global provider of real-time electronic payment and banking solutions, today announced its participation at Money20/20 Europe, the largest global industry event focused on payments and financial services innovation, held this year from April 4-7 in Copenhagen. ACI executives will speak about real-time and faster payments, merchant retail drivers, European regulatory issues and eCommerce payments advancements.

Phil Heasley, president and CEO, ACI Worldwide, will be among the featured presenters at this year's conference, speaking on Wednesday, April 6, 8:30-9:15am:

Keeping it real: Achieving a connected, real-time world, in Europe and beyond

Many countries are now moving toward implementing new clearing systems that are designed for retail payments and provide instant transfer of value between bank accounts. What are the key benefits of doing so? What are the key changes that market players need to think about? What's the longer term game plan for new commercial propositions? And what would be required to create a single global system that would allow consumers and businesses to make payments instantly from one country to another? The panel also includes the CEOs from SWIFT, EBA Clearing and VocaLink.

Craig Saks, group president, ACI Worldwide, will participate in an executive panel on Tuesday, April 5, 10:25-11:10am:

Changing the game with nexo: The value to retailers and implications for the industry nexo, an initiative driving varied constituents in card payments and cash withdrawals toward open and common standards, hopes to ensure interoperability and facilitate industry growth. This session delves deeper into the real world challenges and benefits for retailers and the rest of the payments industry. The panel also includes senior executives from Total, Credit Mutuel, Group Auchan and Edgar Dunn.

Paul Thomalla, senior vice president, corporate relations, will participate in an executive panel on Tuesday, April 5, 3:45-4:35pm:

Making Europe competitive: Building a digital single market

Have the hopes of the Maastricht Treaty been realized? Are they even realistic today? An increasingly unpredictable world makes a unified Europe even more valuable. This session covers initiatives to organize Europe into a single digital market, a geography with enough consistency at scale to rival the most lucrative e-commerce markets in the world. The panel also includes executives from Trust EU Affairs, Kaspersky Lab, PayPal and Citi Treasury & Trade Solutions.

Markus Rinderer, senior vice president, merchant payment solutions, will participate in an executive panel on Monday, April 4, 3:20-4:05pm:

Simplifying eCommerce payments: The quest for a seamless checkout experience

Advancements in eCommerce have dramatically simplified the retail experience. While great strides have been made, shopping cart abandonment rates are still a major pain point for online merchants and there are still areas of friction that need to be addressed to improve the customer journey. The panel also includes executives from Limonetik, McKinsey, PAYMILL and Banca Sella.
